

CONNECTICUT EMERGENCY ANIMAL RESPONSE SERVICE EARS

Equine Emergency Response Training Seminar
Sunday June 25 at 11 am - 6pm
at Mitchell Farm Equine Retirement
300 East Haddam Rd (Rt 82), Salem CT 06420
860-303-8705

We're excited to team up with Mitchell Farm to bring this popular training to this side of Connecticut! This is an intensive course consisting of multimedia presentation, table top exercises, and hands-on aspects, that will teach participants how to prevent and provide assistance in many types of equine emergencies including barn fires, riding emergencies, trailer accidents, and other situations.

The class is presented free of charge by the CT Emergency Animal Response Service, but donations are accepted (including for the lunch break!). We are STRICTLY LIMITING the course to 20 participants to assure that everyone has the opportunity to take part in the hands-on aspects, however, there will be space available for those who would like to "audit" the class. Individuals doing-so are welcome to be a part of the presentations and classroom portions, but will not be able to take part in the hands-on aspects.

REGISTRATION IS REQUIRED!

We will post a link to an online registration option shortly, but in the meantime, if you would like more information please feel free to email us at info@earsct.org

*Note: This course is designed specifically for emergency services (Fire, EMS, Police, Animal Control, etc.) as well as equine facility owners / managers who are most likely to be involved in these types of situations. While others are welcome to attend, priority will be given to first responders. First Responders - If attending, please bring your gear with you, as the hands-on aspects are best learned by working with your own gear.
